

2 Day White Tail Deer Hunt

NW Missouri for two

Are you an avid deer hunter? Are you interested in learning about the sport? Here is a chance for you and a friend, maybe even a father -son opportunity to go on a two day guided hunt in a prime 450 acre area in northwest Missouri. The guide is a local resident familiar with deer behavior and the terrain. He can be with you in anyone of a number of blinds or direct you to the best locations for spotting white tails.

The package is available anytime from the 12th of November (opening day of deer season) until the end of the month.

Deer Hunting best early morning and late afternoon. There is building on site that hunters can rest and eat lunch. The building has a Microwave, Air Frier and small refrigerator for food storage and preparation. You can take snacks out in the blinds.

There are multiple choices for the venison. The hunter can have it processed by a local processor, donate the venison to charity. If the harvest a buck with a nice rack, we will direct them to a taxidermist.

The hunters may choose to drive instead of flying to ease the transportation of fire arms and transporting the harvested game.

I will assist the auction winner on the many options that are available to them for an enjoyable hunt.

If flying in, the Kansas City MO, (MCI) airport is closest. The property is near Cameron Mo, a 1-hour drive north. There are hotels and restaurants within 15 minutes of the area.
